

Songs in “528Hz” - The Love Frequency

The frequency of 528Hz corresponds to a note on the piano keyboard: C5, or the note C that is one octave higher than “middle C.”

Here are several lists of songs written in the “key of C” which is to say they contain the frequency of 528Hz in a more predominant way than had they been written in a different key.

I used ChatGPT to source these lists; as good as AI is, it doesn't always get things right as you will see if you look carefully.
